fhutton@fionahuttonassoc.comAnn Newton Promoted to Senior Account ExecutiveNew Position Strengthens Fiona Hutton & Associates' Services to Clients*

LOS ANGELES – To further strengthen and expand its services to its clients, Fiona Hutton & Associates announced it is promoting one of its experienced executives, Ann Newton, to Senior Account Executive, effective today.

Ms. Newton joined the firm in 2005 and became a specialist at communications program management and outreach. She has adroitly managed accounts and client services for a broad spectrum of corporate, non-profit, trade association, government and political interests, as well as constituency groups ranging from healthcare to environmental organizations.

Among the statewide communications programs she has managed are the Conserving California public education program and the Association of California Water Agencies' program, "California's Water: A Crisis We Can't Ignore."

Ms. Newton also has overseen client services for a wide range of accounts, including the California Association of Health Plans, State Water Contractors and Weintraub Financial Services. Active in statewide politics, she has assisted in the implementation of several statewide ballot measure campaigns in California, from signature qualification through final Election Day activities.

In her new position, Ms. Newton will assume additional responsibilities for account and program management, ensuring clients continue to receive the hands-on service they've come to expect at Fiona Hutton & Associates.

"Ann's promotion is in recognition of her skillful program management, her devotion to providing our clients the utmost in service and her dedication to excellence," said Fiona Hutton, founder and president of Fiona Hutton & Associates. "As she undertakes the additional responsibilities related to her new position, our client services will be expanded and strengthened, ensuring even more individualized and expert attention to every account."

Fiona Hutton & Associates is a Los Angeles-based public affairs and public relations firm with a record of success in representing high-profile clients and effectively managing complex and challenging issues. It has represented a wide range of corporate, non-profit, government, trade association and political clients, including the California Association of Health Plans, The Home Depot, the Los Angeles Dodgers, the Association of California Water Agencies, City National Bank, City of Malibu and the Southern California Water Committee.
